The 3rd Annual European Mediterranean Exploration & Production Summit
(EuroMed E&P 2014)

Monday 6th to Wednesday 8th of October 2014 at the Grand Resort, Limassol, Cyprus

Dear Member,

While global oil and gas operators are struggling to access new global reserves to fulfill increasing demand, the Eastern Mediterranean is emerging with the promise of vast quantities of untapped conventional offshore hydrocarbons.

With fierce competition to access these resources just beginning, the EU is looking forward to securing guaranteed and uninterrupted supplies of energy.

Given that these reserves can meet the EU's hydrocarbon requirements for at least half a century the swift establishment of exploration and production infrastructure in the region is of paramount importance.

The European Mediterranean Exploration & Production Summit (Euro-Med E&P Summit) will discuss the geo- strategic, commercial, technology and regulatory issues that will shape the future of the development and commercialisation of the deep and ultra-deepwater oil and gas industry in the European Mediterranean region.

Exploring the political and technical challenges that lie ahead, leading companies, government representatives, and legal experts will meet to discuss the challenges in energy resource development in the region while exploring the latest innovative technologies and groundbreaking solutions to maximising ROI on hydrocarbon resource development and extraction.

Joining the region's offshore oil and gas exploration and production leaders the summit offers an unparalleled opportunity to network and gain crucial industry intelligence into the future of this emerging new offshore oil and gas market while making important new contacts in the region.

The summit will also discuss the geo- strategic, commercial, technology and regulatory issues that will shape the future of the development and commercialisation of the deep and ultra-deepwater oil and gas industry in the European Mediterranean region.

The 3-day Summit consists of the following optional component days:

The summit's main conference (Tuesday 7th & Wednesday 8th October) focussing on:

- The New Geo-Strategic Challenges and Investment Possibilities for the Region
