---

Dear Members,

We are delighted to announce that registrations are now open for the ICC United Kingdom Sustainability Conference, Collaborating for Sustainable Global Supply Chains, taking place on 10 June 2024 at HSBC, 8 Canada Square, Canary Wharf, London.

ICC Cyprus is a sponsor of the above conference.

This conference brings together prominent global thought leaders from business, government and industry institutions to share global best practice and discuss how business can meet the challenge of delivering sustainable supply chains and incorporating sustainability into their operations.

Why attend an ICC United Kingdom conference?

As the official Focal Point for Business to the UN Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC) and having played a key role in advocating for the delivery of the Paris Agreement in 2015 and in shaping the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals, you know that by attending an ICC conference your input and engagement will influence global policy frameworks and standards.

By attending the ICC United Kingdom Sustainability Conference, companies will:

- Share thought leadership, listen to case studies and engage with key government representatives and major institutions.
- Learn practical tools which support business.
- Gain an understanding of the international standards and frameworks that shape the business environment.
- Hear about the latest technologies which underpin transparency in supply chains.
- Network with like-minded peers.

Testimonials:

“The ICC is uniquely placed to act as an international voice for business on key sustainability challenges like tackling climate change.” - Owen Bethell, Environmental Impact Lead Global Public Affairs, Nestlé

“It’s important to join up the global policy discussion on climate and biodiversity - the trick is to find the messages that bridge these conversations for both people and businesses, while the real hard technical work is still being done in the background. This is why I choose to attend COP and ICC conferences instead of others because meaningful influential policy work is being done behind the scenes.” - Rebekah Braswell, CEO, Land Life Company

Sessions include:

- Achieving end to end sustainable financing
- The future of sustainability disclosures and the regulatory environment for businesses
- Stepping up efforts on supply chain decarbonisation
- The biodiversity business case
- Business’ role in supporting the just transition

Speakers include:

- Swaroop Nadhavajhala, Global Product Head - Sustainability, Innovation, Asset Distribution & FIs, Trade & Receivables Finance, HSBC
- Gabrielle Giner, Head of Environment, BT
- Bobbie Mellor, Group Head of ESG, Vodafone
- Edward Pollard, Director, UK Business & Biodiversity Forum

Yours Sincerely,

Georgia Venizelou
